The Faculty of Health Sciences (FHS) of the American University of Beirut currently seeks for its Department of Epidemiology and Population Health a candidate with a doctoral degree in Biostatistics or Statistics, at the rank of assistant, associate or full professor depending on qualifications and experience. The Department is in the process of developing a Master’s Program in Biostatistics, and biostatisticians/statisticians in all areas are encouraged to apply. Applicants with strong methodological training and/or experience are preferred.

The successful candidate will contribute to the:

- teaching of basic and advanced biostatistics courses, both theoretical and applied, to undergraduate and graduate students in public health, biostatistics and medicine as well as to the mentoring of students
- expansion of graduate education at FHS at the Masters and Doctoral levels
- development of methodological and applied research, collaborating with other biostatisticians, public health or medical professionals
- outreach programs at the Faculty, participating in professional service

Currently, the Department offers an MPH degree in Epidemiology and Biostatistics and an MS Degree in Epidemiology and is in the process of developing a Masters Degree in Biostatistics and a PhD in Epidemiology as part of the Graduate Public Health Program (GPHP) at FHS. The GPHP has been accredited by the US Council on Education for Public Health (CEPH) since 2006. Further information about AUB, FHS, and the Department can be found at: http://www.aub.edu.lb and http://fhs.aub.edu.lb

Interested candidates should submit their applications (a curriculum vitae; a letter outlining their research and teaching interests; and contact information for three referees) to Dean Iman Nuwayhid (nuwayhid@aub.edu.lb) copied to Ms. Mona Katul (mkatul@aub.edu.lb). The search is confidential and applicants will be contacted prior to requesting letters of reference.

Review of candidates will begin immediately. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

The American University of Beirut is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer.